Getting Around

UNSW is in the Eastern Suburbs of Sydney, close to Randwick and Coogee Beach.

The city is served by a good transport system of buses, rail and ferries. From Belmore Road, Randwick (the main shopping street and 5 minutes walk from UNSW) you can take bus 373 to Circular Quay for the harbour, The Rocks, The Opera House and Botanic Gardens. You can take bus 372 to Central Railway station to make rail connections.

If you want to plan how to get around, the easiest way to do that is by visiting Transport NSW:

<https://transportnsw.info/>

Most forms of transport take an Opal Card which can be purchased in newsagent shops. This card enables you to travel by train, bus and public ferry (N.B. Private or charter ferries charge fees)

Information on what to do in Sydney can be found here:

<https://www.sydney.com/>

Please bear in mind that Sydney is undergoing significant infrastructure development at the moment including construction of a light rail network. This can affect the timing of public transport and the routes that buses take.
