

The AFSAAP PROJECT 2014

An Audit of African Studies in Australia 2014 – A Snapshot of Courses and Topics available in Australian and New Zealand Universities, in addition to names of researchers working on issues related to Africa*

INSTITUTION	Name	Course with pure African focus	Courses with comparative perspectives on Africa	COMMENTS	Contact details/email
Australian Catholic University	Dr. Jean Burke	N/A	n/a	Jean Burke is a lecturer in Social Work. Her research interests include: HIV and infant feeding in East Africa; Swahili usage by Australian Africans; and media coverage of people with albinism in East Africa (Jean is the 2013-2014 AFSAAP executive member).	Jean.Burke@acu.edu.au
Australian National University	Dr Janine Ubink (Visiting Lecturer)	Law and Governance in Sub-Saharan Africa (LAWS8071) (College of Law)	N/A	Janine Ubink is a senior lecturer at the Van Vollenhoven Institute, and from the fall of 2013 also a faculty member at the University of California Irvine's Law School – where she is based. Janine's research centers around African law, with a primary focus on customary law; traditional courts and leaders; land tenure; legal anthropology; and legal empowerment. Her regional focus is on Africa.	j.ubink@law.leidenuniv.nl
	Rebecca Monson	Course Convenor of LAWS 8071(Law and Governance in Sub-Saharan Africa)	N/A	Research interests center on property, political ecology, legal geography, post-colonial legal theory and feminist legal theory. She is particularly interested in the intersection of state and customary legal systems in (post)colonial societies.	Rebecca.monson@anu.edu.au

	David Lucas	n/a	N/A	Adjunct Associate Professor Lucas is a demographer and has taught in various African universities. His research areas include: Africans in Australia and South African migrants in Australia and New Zealand. He also writes on responsible and ethical mining practices in Africa. He is the key contact person of the ANU Africa Network (http://africanetwork.weblogs.anu.edu.au/sample-page/), Lucas is one of the founding members of AFSAAP and is a Past-President of AFSAAP.	david.lucas@anu.edu.au
	Margaret O'Callaghan	n/a	n/a	Visiting Fellow in the Crawford School, currently working on a research project which looks at local Zambian NGOs perspectives around Alternative Mining Indaba in Ndola, and North Western province. Working on a book project documenting the socio-economic impact of the current mining boom in Zambia.	margaret.ocallaghan@anu.edu.au
	Dr. Takele Soboka Bulto (Non-resident fellow at RegNet and Uni of Canberra)	N/A	N/A	Primary research interests pertaining to Africa are Human Rights, and the 'Human Right to Water'. Other areas include: Access to justice; Constitutional law; natural resources law; Legal institutions (incl. courts and justice systems); Family law; International law (excl. international trade law).	takele.bulto@uwa.edu.au
	Dr. Martine Mariotti	N/A	N/A	Areas of research include: Economic History of South Africa, and Economic Development and Growth.	martine.mariotti@anu.edu.au

	Dr. Helen Suich Research Fellow	N/A	N/A	Current research involves the history and impact of rainfed agriculture in South Africa.	helen.suich@anu.edu.au
	Dr. Yohannes Kinfu	N/A	N/A	Focus of research: Demography, Health Economics, Health Information Systems, and Biostatistics. Currently researching Population, Family Planning and reproductive Health of the poor in Sub-Saharan Africa; Affordable Medicines, Tuberculosis and AIDS treatment (Kenya focused).	yohannes.kinfu@anu.edu.au
	Mr. Atem Atem	N/A	N/A	PhD Candidate Thesis: "Settlement experiences of the Sudanese refugees in Australia." Former PG Representative on the AFSAAP Executive committee (2010-2011)	Atem.atem@anu.edu.au

	Christina Kenny	N/A	N/A	PhD Candidate Thesis: "Legal and cultural frameworks of consent – an examination of the sexual experiences of Kenyan women in a new constitution age". Christina is the 2014 AFSAAP Executive Secretary.	Christina.kenny@anu.edu.au
Bond University	Dr R. James Ferguson	N/A	Alternative Globalisations (INTR13-310) This subject examines alternative formulations of international relations and the global system. It explores new ways to meet the crises and challenges of the 21st century. The main themes of the subject are explored through a case study approach, with examples drawn from the Asia-Pacific, Europe, Latin America and Africa.	Ferguson's main research areas include: The rise of China and Global Order.	jferguso@bond.edu.au
	Dr Caitlin Byrne		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Global Institutions and Political Conciliation (INTR71-206) This subject examines how institutions such as the United Nations (UN),	Byrne's research interests include: Public Diplomacy and Australian Foreign Policy; And People-to-People Links in diplomatic practice	caibyrne@bond.edu.au

			NATO, the OSCE, African Union (AU), ASEAN, and the International Criminal Court cooperate and conflict in the globalised 21st century political community.
Central Queensland University	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A
Charles Darwin University	Ms. Susana Akua Saffu (PhD Student and lecturer in the Batchelor Institute of Indigenous Tertiary Education)	N/A		Saffu's research interests include: Migration, education and social capital; Education for diverse and marginalised communities; Education and Empowerment; Challenges faced by African-Australian women. She won the AFSAAP postgraduate Essay Prize in the past.	susana.saffu@batchelor.edu.au
	Alan Powell Course convenor	n/a	War and Peace in World History (L-HST220). Course description: War is a central feature of human history. But why? War and Peace in World History looks at the ways in which issues of war and peace are shaped by specific cultural and historical conditions that can only be understood in a broader international context. While war is often viewed purely in terms of military strategy, it also always depends on social,	Emeritus Professor Powell's research interests are in Classical History and Northern Territory History, and World War II History	Alan.powell@cdu.edu.au

			economic and cultural contexts for its meaning and practice. This unit explores the changing relationships over time, between understandings, practices and experiences of war. It also examines the practice of peace-making ? how have societies and cultures sought to create peace? What might a history of peace-making look like? Our travels will take us from Ancient Greece and Rome through to the `war on terror?. In between, we explore the early modern world, colonial empires, South Africa, the United States, Japan, Vietnam, New Zealand and Australia. This unit offers an opportunity to consider the centrality of war to human history (and the social and cultural ramifications of this) as well as providing a solid grounding in the discipline of world history.
	Dan Baschiera (Course		Integrated Methods of Humanitarian Action and	Dan’s research interests include: Climate Change, Humanitarianism and Emergency Management.	dan.baschiera@cdu.edu.au

	Coordinator)		Community Studies(HCS365). This course places students in humanitarian agencies, some of which working in/on Africa. The objective of this unit is to provide the student with individual development of a professional self and practice framework in humanitarian environments of uncertainty, cross cultural stress and chaos.
Charles Sturt University	Dr. Ndungi Wa Mungai	N/A	N/A	While Mungai is said to teach 'Social Work', there's no specific mention of African Studies, though his research projects and publications have a heavy African focus.	nmungai@csu.edu.au
	Dr Kiprono Langat	N/A	N/A	Research interests include: Rural teacher education and school(ing) practice; Curriculum area literacies; International education ; Rethinking social change and sustainability (Indigenous Australian and Kenyan education contexts) ; Refugee studies. Kiprono is an AFSAAP member	kalangat@csu.edu.au
Curtin University	(Adjunct) Prof. Cherry Gertzel.	N/A	N/A	Retired Professor Cherry Gertzel specialises in Africa, Famine, Politics (development) and Third World Development. Gertzel was previously at Flinders University where she taught African History. She was also a founding member of AFSAAP and the Editor of the	Now retired

				African Studies Review and Newsletter, then the Australasian Review of African Studies
	Associate Prof. Joan Wardop	N/A	N/A	Wardop has published many articles and papers on South Africa (masculinities, segregation, gender, politics, crime) and is also on the Editorial Board of the Australasian Review of African studies.	J.Wardrop@curtin.edu.au
Deakin University	Dr. Sam Balaton-Chrimes	N/A		Balaton-Chrimes' projects include: "Better free, prior and informed consent: lessons from the Kenya Slum Upgrading project" and an upcoming publication (2014): "Ethnicity and Political Marginalisation in Kenya: Citizenship and its deficits" Sam is former AFSAAP secretary (2012-2013).	sam.b@deakin.edu.au
	Dr Ruth Ethel Jackson Research Fellow	n/a	n/a	Jackson's research Interests: Maternal, Neonatal and Child Health services in Rural and Pastoralist Ethiopia	r.jackson@deakin.edu.au

	Dr Getnet Bitew	n/a	n/a	(currently based at the University of Hiramaya, Ethiopia); Bitew has published on: Ethiopian-Australian students experience of secondary schooling in the Australian education system in the state of Victoria; and Parental support for African Immigrant students' Schooling in Australia	getnetdb@yahoo.com or getnetdemissie@hotmail.com
Edith Cowan University	Associate Prof. Trevor Cullen	N/A	N/A	Cullen has Interest and in media coverage of HIV/AIDS stems from a ten-year period in Malawi (1981-1991), when he worked as a missionary, lecturer and broadcaster. Cullen is a member of International AIDS Society (IAS).	t.cullen@ecu.edu.au
	Dr David Robinson	n/a	n/a	Research Interests: USA Policy and Perspectives on the Independence Struggle and Post Colonial State in Mozambique. David was former PG Rep for AFSAAP.	d.robinson@ecu.edu.au
	Dr. Yvonne Haig	n/a	n/a	Haig's main research area is Education/Literacy. She has also written a few publications on African Refugees. One of her papers is: Addressing the educational challenges faced by African refugee background students	y.haig@ecu.edu.au

Flinders University	Dr Tanya Lyons	Africa on a Global Stage (INTR2008) This topic examines the key issues in African International relations with a focus on how Africa is positioned globally, its political history and its prospects for the future. Themes covered include colonialism, decolonisation, post-colonialism, political independence, and globalisation.		Senior Lecturer, President of AFSAAP (since 2012-) and Editor of the Australasian Review of African Studies; Chair - Australia-Africa University Network Consultative Group; Chair - Africa Interest Group. She specialises in teaching African Political History. She has co-edited the books New Engagement: Contemporary Australian Foreign Policy Toward Africa (with David Mickler, 2013), and South Sudanese Diaspora in Australia and New Zealand: Reconciling the Past with the Present (with Jay Marlowe and Anne Harris, 2013), and Africa on a Global Stage (with Gerry Pye, 2006), and written chapters on "Australian Foreign Policy Toward Africa" (2012) and "The State of African Studies in Australia" (with Elizabeth Dimock, 2007). Dr. Lyons is the author of Guns and Guerrilla Girls: Women in the Zimbabwean Liberation Struggle (2004).	tanya.lyons@flinders.edu.au
		Africa: International Interventions (INTR3003) This topic examines the importance of International Interventions in Africa, focusing on International relations. Issues covered will include failed states, civil conflict, violence and genocide, foreign relations with Africa, in particular with			tanya.lyons@flinders.edu.au

		China, Australia and the United States.
		African Politics: Global Issues (INTR7008 and 9055) This topic examines the development of African Studies, with a focus on development, structural adjustment programs, international interventions with a case study on Australian Foreign Policy toward Africa.			tanya.lyons@flinders.edu.au
Griffith University	Prof. Roger RB Leakey (adjunct)	N/A	N/A	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Area of interest is the development of sustainable and profitable landuse systems. • Research includes Domestication potential of Marula in South Africa and Namibia. 	rogerleakey@btinternet.com
	Nigel Stork			Nigel is a biologist with experience of working in many parts of the world including Africa. He has published 10 books and more than 150 papers. He has been a pioneer of the exploration of tropical forest canopies, first using knockdown insecticides, and more recently with canopy cranes, installing an industrial crane in the 'Daintree' rainforest to assist researchers study the forest canopy. His current research focus is on the magnitude of global species diversity and extinction rates.

James Cook University	A/Prof. David King	N/A	N/A	Worked as a school teacher in the diamond fields of Sierra Leone. Teaching areas include (though no mention of Africa): Social Impact Assessment: Environmental Management, Human Geography, Environmental Science and Management, Psychology.	david.king@jcu.edu.au
	Prof. Paul Dirks	N/A	N/A	A passion for capacity building in Africa. Founding director of the AfricaArray programme – develops an observational network across Sub-Saharan Africa aimed at enhancing knowledge of the tectonics and topography of the Africa plate. Worked/consulted for the mining industry for SRK-Zimbabwe and SRK-South Africa.	paul.dirks@jcu.edu.au
	A/Prof Bruce Gummow	N/A	N/A	Dual appointment with the University of Pretoria in South Africa, where he is recognised as a leading scientist by the National Research Foundation. Research interests in: Environmental epidemiology, risk and decision analysis, zoonotic diseases, and related epidemiological and public health	bruce.gummow@jcu.edu.au issues, with focus on Southern Africa.

Victoria University	Dr. Michael Spisto			Dr Spisto is a law lecturer and did his doctoral studies at Witwatersrand (SA). He was an Attorney at Law In South Africa.	michael.spisto@vu.edu.au
	Dr Charles Mphande	Contemporary Africa and Social Change (ASS5080)	N/A	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Mphande is a communication for development specialist, and applied linguist. Received awards for excellence in work towards education of African-Australian's. Published research on African Language. Member of AFSAAP.	Charles.mphande@vu.edu.au
LaTrobe University	Dr. Nicola Stern	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> African Archeology (ARC2AFR + ARC3AFR). 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Genocides and the Holocaust: Europe, Asia, Africa (HIS2GAH + HIS3GAH) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Senior Lecturer, Postgraduate Coordinator (Archaeology). 	n.stern@latrobe.edu.au
	Dr. Andy I.R. Herries	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> N/A 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> N/A 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Australian Research Fellow. Work includes Cave Archaeology and Paleontology in South Africa. Research in open landscape research in Southern Africa and Kenya. 	a.herries@latrobe.edu.au
	Mr. Luke Benjamin Gahan	N/A	N/A	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> PhD Cadidate, Casual Lecturer and Tutor at the School of Public Health 	lukegahan@gmail.com

				and Human Biosciences (Faculty of Health Sciences). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Member of the South African Sociological Association. • Research areas: Separation and Divorce, Same-sex parented families, Religion/Spirituality and LGBTIQ People.
	Elizabeth Dimock	N/A		While Liz is a veteran in African issues, the LaTrobe website offers very little in terms of her profile. She was one of the founding members of AFSAAP, and member of the La Trobe Uni African Studies Research Centre with Prof David Dorward. She was AFSAAP's Treasurer for many years.	e.dimock@latrobe.edu.au
			•	•
	Professor David DORWARD	N/A		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • He is an adjunct prof in the History department La Trobe Uni. He was a founding member of AFSAAP, and former AFSAAP President. He continues to provide commentary on Africa issues.

	Dr. Trevor Edwards	N/A	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> N/A 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Lecturer, primarily in Botany (Faculty of Science, Technology and Engineering, School of Life Sciences). Member of the South African Association of Botanists. Honorary Professor at University of Kwazulu-natal. 	trevor.edwards@latrobe.edu.au
	Dr Apollo Nsubuga-Kyobe	N/A	N/A	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Has been a spokesperson on matters of settling Sub-Sahara Africans in Victoria (also published research in this area). Former Vice President of AFSAAP. Teaches International Management, Organisational Change and Development. 	a.nsubuga-kyobe@latrobe.edu.au
RMIT	Dr Jonathan Makuwira	Contemporary Africa (HUS02317)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Aid, Adjustment and Development (Third World focused) (HUSO2078). International NGOs, Civil Society and Development (HUSO2096).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Published material concerning Sub-Sahara Africa, African Politics, NGO's, Third World Development. Makuwira is a former AFSAAP member	jonathan.makuwira@rmit.edu.au
	Dr. Yaso Nadarajah	Contemporary Africa (HUS02317).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> N/A 	Course Coordinator for Gender Issues in Development, and for Field Projects (Both in Masters, international Development. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Executive member of the Globalism Research Centre. 	yaso.nadarajah@rmit.edu.au

	Dr. Peter Marden	N/A	Governance and Democracy in Developing Countries (HUSO2073)	Peter is the program director of the International Development Program. His research areas include: democracy and governance, public policy; Education policy and globalisation.	peter.marden@rmit.edu.au
	Professor Jock McCulloch	N/A	Health Issues in Development (HUSO2072).	Jock has been an AFSAAP member in the past.	jock.mcculloch@rmit.edu.au
The University of Adelaide	Dr Chika Anyanwu	N/A	N/A	Taught at various universities in Nigeria. Research investigates the synergy of Western technology and Eastern Traditions to create an 'all-embracing' global village. (Virtual African Diaspora, African Cinema). Teaching interests include Media Policy, Media Law, Digital Revolution. Chika is an AFSAAP member	chika.anyanwu@adelaide.edu.au
	Dr Judith Gomersall	N/A	N/A	PhD in South Africa, Doctoral research on Child Poverty and Child Support in South Africa.; Worked at a senior level at the Institute of Democracy in South Africa with primary interest in child socio-economic rifts; Published many papers on the above topics.	judith.gomersall@adelaide.edu.au
	Prof. Dorothy Driver	N/A	Haunted Histories: South African Writing (ENG2103).	Part-time English and Creative Writing teacher at Adelaide Uni. Areas of research include gender and race in both pre/post Apartheid South Africa.	dorothy.driver@adelaide.edu.au

	Dr. Andrew Skuse	N/A	N/A	Research focus: Anthropology and Development Studies. Currently actively researching and consulting in the Pacific, Nepal and South Africa, as well as for agencies such as AusAID, DFID, UNESCO and UNICEF.	andrew.skuse@adelaide.edu.au
The University of Melbourne	Assoc Prof Simon Batterbury	Africa: Environment, Development, People (GEOG30024) This subject introduces students to the physical environment, history and development challenges facing contemporary Sub-Saharan Africa. Students examine in detail intellectual and ethical debates surrounding the strategies undertaken by postcolonial African states and the overseas development “industry” to tackle poverty, inequality, environmental change and the colonial legacy. Students will consider how Africa’s problems are portrayed and understood by the rest of the world. Topics may include: the physical environment and competing understandings of environmental change; the history and governance of the continent; regional case studies (West Africa and the D.R. Congo); agrarian transformations and rural livelihoods; development	N/A	Research areas: Political ecology of natural resource management, sustainable development and the environment, urban transport, West Africa, Asia-Pacific (Adaptation to climate change; Adaptation to climate change; Sustainable development and the environment; Bicycles and sustainable transport; Geography, area studies, environment and development paths; Agrarian change; Program Evaluation & Social Impact Assessment	simonpjb@unimelb.edu.au projects and rise of the NGO; military conflict and mineral wealth; hunger, famine, etc

	Dr. Melissa Phillips.	Politics of Development in Africa (DEVT90049) This course examines key themes in the study of sub-Saharan African development, focussing on the political aspects of development, and applying theoretical and conceptual work in the field to the study of a range of particular development challenges facing the continent.	N/A	Research interests include: Refugees, diasporas in Australia; South Sudanese diasporas; Immigration policies in Australia; Multiculturalism and social inclusion in Australia Melissa has contributed a number of book chapters on South Sudanese diasporas	phim@unimelb.edu.au
	Prof. Catherine Falk	African Drum and Dance Ensemble 1 (MUSI10021) African Drum and Dance Ensemble 2 (MUSI10022)	N/A	Both courses held at Melbourne Conservatorium of Music VCA and Music Student Centre (mcm-ugrad@unimelb.edu.au).	cafalk@unimelb.edu.au
	Dr Violeta Schubert	n/a	Development, Culture and Conflict (DEVT50001) Complex emergencies characterized by extensive violence, displacements of people and the need for multi-faceted humanitarian intervention have become increasingly numerous and intractable. This subject examines the new context for development in the light of debates about the "clash of civilizations", the end of	Schubert's research areas include: security studies, humanitarianism and protection.	violetas@unimelb.edu.au history, the failure of secularism, the "coming anarchy" and the rising prominence of fundamentalisms. Case studies and illustrative material from Africa, the Middle East, South Asia and other regions

	Dr Steven Welch	n/a	The Holocaust & Genocide (HIST20013) The 20th century has been labelled the "Age of Genocide". This subject will provide a detailed examination of the Holocaust, the archetype of modern genocide, and seek to place it within the broader history of genocide and mass killing. Through the examination of a number of comparative cases—Armenia, the Ukraine, Cambodia, Rwanda and the former Yugoslavia—this subject will also investigate the contested nature of the concept of genocide itself and explore the debates about both the scholarly and popular application of the term genocide.	Welch's research areas include: The Third Reich, Nazi Germany, genocide studies.	s.welch@unimelb.edu.au
	Dr Juliet Rogers	n/a	Violence, trauma and Human Rights (CRIM90017) Calls to institute human rights, truth commissions, international justice and even legalising torture are responses to injuries inflicted	Dr Rogers's research areas are in reconciliation and human rights. Her current projects (-2015) are: "Resistance, Recognition and Reconciliation in Australia - lessons from South Africa and Northern Ireland.	julietr@unimelb.edu.au on peoples around the world. This subject considers legal forms and practices, including the mechanisms and rhetoric of human rights, respond to traumatic events.	And “The Quality of Remorse in Northern Ireland and South Africa - Implications for Australia.

University of Newcastle	Prof. Mel Gray	N/A	Indigenous Health Around the World (ABOR3440) This course explores the health of Indigenous Peoples throughout the colonised world including Australia, New Zealand, Africa and America. Students explore the principles of European imperialism and its impact on the health of Indigenous Peoples as well as examine contemporary issues faced by modern society in bringing equity to Indigenous people.	Prof. Mel Gray is an advocate for social work who spent 15 years in South Africa exploring social development policy in the changeover to democracy, and crime prevention.	Mel.Gray@newcastle.edu.au
	Associate Professor Frank Agbola	n/a	n/a	Agbola, from Newcastle Business School, has had work published in the African Journal of Agricultural Research and the African Journal of tourism and Hospitality. His specialty is International, Agricultural, Tourism and Development Economics.	Frank.Agbola@newcastle.edu.au
Macquarie University	A/Prof. Geoffrey Hawker	African Politics and Globalisation (POL255) This course focuses on sub-Saharan Africa and the relations with other parts of Africa and the rest of the	N/A	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Hawker is past president of AFSAAP and has researched on African and South African issues for many decades. 	Geoffrey.Hawker@mq.edu.au world, with particular interest in issues of poverty, development and aid.

	Dr. Noah Bassil	N/A	N/A	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Particular focus on African Post-colonial conflict in Darfur. • Publications on politics in Northern Africa. • Bassil is a member of AFSAAP and has written in ARAS Journal 	noah.bassil@mq.edu.au
	Centre for Middle East and North African Studies	N/A	n/a	The Centre for Middle East and North African Studies is committed to promoting a greater understanding of the history, politics, and culture of the Middle East. Primary areas of interest include democratisation in the Middle East and North Africa, regional and international politics, Arab-African relations, and the recent history of the Middle East and North Africa. The Centre is committed to promoting a greater understanding of the history, politics, and culture of the Middle East. Primary areas of interest include democratisation in the Middle East and North Africa, regional and international politics, Arab-African relations, and the recent history of the Middle East and North Africa. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 	mecentre@mq.edu.au

	Associate professor Jan-Louis Kruger			Research areas include: Narrative theory; Translation theory; Audiovisual translation (AVT); Academic language proficiency and literacy; 20 th century literature. Has published on South Africa	JanLouis.Kruger@mq.edu.au
	Ms. Vera Williams Tetteh	n/a	n/a	PHD student in Linguistics. Her thesis is a sociolinguistic ethnographic study of the language learning and settlement trajectories of sub-Saharan African men and women living in Sydney suburban areas and a regional location in New South Wales.	vera.williamstetteh@mq.edu.au
Monash University	Dr Soma Pillay	N/A	N/A	“Her research interest are in “Governance Issues in Developing Countries” and she has published on issues related to South Africa among other areas.	Soma.Pillay@monash.edu
Monash University (South Africa).	There is a Minor in African Studies available at Monash Uni – but it is only offered at their South Africa campus. 3 topics specific to Africa, plus 2 development related topics, not specific to Africa.	AZA1294 Reading Africa: An introduction The unit introduces students to the study of a variety literary and cultural texts from Africa and the genres to which they belong (e.g., poetry, prose fiction, drama and film). Students will also be asked to engage with the different ideas that critics	na	Joseph’s research interests are not listed on Monash website. A google search of his name indicates that he works on African literature (Ngugi Wa Thiongo) and on the issue of child soldiers. He published a work titled: Child Soldiers as Reflected in the African Francophone War Literature of the 1990s and 2000s	Joseph.Minga@monash.edu

	Dr. Joseph Minga teaches these 2 topics.	have used to interpret African literature and culture.
		Africa and its others (AZA241). The Dark Continent has been and is still being imagined, analysed and represented in many different ways, by different people on different continents. The title Africa and Its Others can be interpreted in different ways: Africa and its different discoverers/- explorers, Africa and its colonizers, Africa and its diasporas, Africa and its travellers, Africa and its other self and so on. This unit thus looks at how Africa has been and is represented from the outside by outsiders and insiders and from the inside by insiders/outside through a variety of materials and various perspectives (literary, anthropological, historical and philosophical).	N/A
	Ms Shibu Sangale	Africa in the modern world (AZA2643): Synopsis of the course: The path from colonies to independent states has been a long and challenging one. Surveying the entire continent from the late colonial period onwards, the course explores how ordinary men and	N/A	Sangale's research (PhD) topic is: Building the promise: Kenyan democracy and the power of the executive in the constitution, post 2007	Shibu.Sangale@monash.edu women, peasants and workers, subjects and citizens, political and economic elites and religious and cultural leaders created new forms of meaning and power.

Murdoch University	Associate Professor John Mugambwa	N/A	Land law and land tenure in developing countries	His main area of research interest is land law and land tenure in developing countries. He has published extensively in the field, including a number of books and journal articles, specifically on Ugandan and Papua New Guinean land law and policy.	J.Mugambwa@murdoch.edu.au
	Dr Morrison-Saunders	n/a	n/a	His research focuses on evaluating the outcomes of all forms of impact assessment and their contribution to sustainability. He has participated in statutory reviews of EIA legislation and procedures in South Africa, and in Australia. His current research project is "Driving policy innovation in mine closure, abandonment management, environment risk mitigation, rehabilitation of abandoned mine sites as a pro-development strategy in Africa".	A.Morrison-Saunders@murdoch.edu.au
	Professor Samuel Makinda			Professor Samuel Makinda has research experience in the following areas: security and governance in Africa; the African Union and the UN and peace building; transnational terrorism; Kenya's political system. Sam is an AFSAAP member.	s.makinda@murdoch.edu.au

	Associate Professor Martin Mhando			Martin's areas of research include Filmmaking and African cinema; documentary theory, film production praxis, African cinema, world cinema and Indigenous knowledge. He is a current Member of AFSAAP.	M.Mhando@murdoch.edu.au
	Dr Casta Tungaraza	N/A	N/A	Tungaraza is the Manager of the Equal Opportunity Office. Her research areas include: race relations, multiculturalism, Women's rights and leadership, African-Australians	c.tungaraza@murdoch.edu.au
Queensland University of Technology	Professor James Dale	N/A	N/A	Professor Dale is undertaking research on Biofortification of Ugandan bananas.
	Associate Professor Jane Shakespeare-Finch	n/a	n/a	Areas of Research: Mental Health, Posttraumatic stress, Resilience, trauma, counselling Her completed PhD was on: "The role of distal and proximate culture on post-trauma outcomes: African and Australian populations"	j.shakespeare-finch@qut.edu.au
Southern Cross University	N/A	N/A	N/A	n/a	n/a
Swinburne University of Technology	Associate Professor Kwamena Kwansah-Aidoo			Among his research interest are: African media; Communication research in African; AFSAAP member – and was the principal author of the audit "African Studies in Aus in 2011" published by AFSAAP.	KKwansah@groupwise.swin.edu.au

Federation University, Australia (formerly the University of Ballarat)	Dr Andrew West	N/A	N/A	Andrew's research interests lie in the application of moral philosophy to aspects of accounting and business. Specific topics of interest include prospects for applying virtue ethics in the accounting profession and the applicability of moral relativism to global issues in business ethics. One of focus areas is: South Africa. One of his work is titled: "Theorising South Africa's corporate governance"	Andrew.West@federation.edu.au
University of Canberra	N/A	N/A	N/A	The University of Canberra has a Centre for Customs and Excise Studies based in Nairobi. It is managed by Mr Creck Buyonge. However, no courses with an African flavour appear on the University's website.	Mr Creck Buyonge (no email on the website of either U of Canberra or Charles Sturt University)
The University of New England	Dr Rebecca Spence	n/a	Post-Conflict Justice and Reconciliation Processes (cases include South Africa, Liberia, etc)	Reconciliation processes in Bougainville, Northern Ireland and South Africa; Peace building in post-conflict situations	rspence1@une.edu.au
	Dr Charles Kivunja	n/a	n/a	Res Int: leadership and its impacts on multigrade pedagogy and practice in African contexts, partclrlly in Zambia, Uganda, Kenya and South Africa.	ckivunja@une.edu.au
	Professor Helen Ware	n/a	n/a	Helen Ware has been supervising several PhD students working on Africa-related topics/themes. Research interests: Peace Building; Diplomacy; Gender and Development; Administration of Development	hware@une.edu.au

				Assistance; Use of Imperfect Data; Statistics and Social Change Demography; Africa; la Francophonie. Former Australian High Commissioner to Zambia, long standing AFSAAP member, former editor of ARAS and member of the ARAS Editorial Board
	Dr Inga Brasche	n/a	n/a	Research Interests: Sociological history in sub-saharan Africa and Indigenous Australia Global processes and socio- cultural resilience, cultural development; Intercultural intervention; Post-colonial identity in Africa; and Politics of international development practice	ibrasche@une.edu.au
	Dr Finex Ndhlovu	n/a	n/a	Research interests: Language policy and politics, multilingualism and multilingual citizenship, language and identity formation, African migrant languages and identities, cross- border languages and trans- national identities, African Diaspora identities, language-in- migration policies, language and citizenship, postcolonial African identities, and language and discourses of everyday forms of exclusion in Australia and Africa. Finex is an AFSAAP member and on the editorial board of ARAS.	fndhlovu@une.edu.au

	Kodjo Kondo (PhD student)	n/a	n/a	Environmental and Sustainable Agricultural Programmes; participatory planning, monitoring and evaluation	kkondo3@myune.edu.au
	N/A (School of Arts and Media)	n/a	Sound, Society & Self in World Music; omparative Management Systems (MUSC2116). This World Music course surveys and examines the relationships between music, the society in which it is performed, and individual selves. It explores both traditional and contemporary music of Aboriginal Australia, South-east Asia, India, Central Asia and the Middle East, West Africa and the Caribbean, and marginal Europe.	n/a	sam@unsw.edu.au (School of Arts and Media)
	Ms Beth Goldblatt	n/a	n/a	South African educated, and published in gender, disability and human rights in South Africa	b.goldblatt@unsw.edu.au
The University of New South Wales - Canberra	Dr Alec Thornton	n/a	n/a	Dr Thornton is a Senior Lecturer in Geography. His research areas include rural and urban livelihoods in Sub-Saharan Africa. He is also the current (2014) Vice-President of AFSAAP	a.thornton@unsw.edu.au ; a.thornton@adfa.edu.au

	Eleanor Hancock	N/A	Contemporary African History - ZHSS2230 This course studies the main historical forces that have shaped African lives over the last two centuries. It examines the major epochs of colonialism, decolonization and post-colonial independence, combining chronological and conceptual approaches.	Eleanor's research areas include: The legacy of National Socialism; Nigeria 1914-to the present; Feminism, the state and the use of force.	e.hancock@adfa.edu.au
University of New South Wales	Dr Mengistu Amberber	n/a	n/a	Dr Mengistu Amberber is a Senior Lecturer in Linguistics in the School of Languages and Linguistics (FASS). His main research interests include lexical semantics, grammatical theory, the semantics-syntax interface, and linguistic typology. He is the author of Verb Classes and Transitivity in Amharic (Lincom Studies in Afro-Asiatic Linguistics, 2002)	m.amberber@unsw.edu.au
University of Notre Dame	Professor Marguerite Maher	n/a	n/a	Her areas of research include: South African Educational System	Marguerite.Maher@nd.edu.au
	Dr Denise Buiten	n/a	n/a	Areas of Research: Gender Transformation and Media Representations: Journalistic Discourses in South African Newspapers; Gender based Violence	denise.buiten@nd.edu.au
	Sheena McChlery	n/a	n/a	Sheena McChlery teaches the sociocultural perspectives of health and illness, and the historical and theoretical components of nursing.	Sheena.McChlery@nd.edu.au

				As a registered nurse/midwife, she has broad experience in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa in midwifery, remote area nursing, perioperative nursing and clinical research.
University of Queensland	Assoc Prof John Asafu-Adjaye	n/a	n/a	His research topics include: Environmental and natural resource economics, economic impact analysis, economic modelling, including computable general equilibrium (CGE) modelling. Economic and environmental policy analysis of African and Asia-Pacific economies and of Ghana, Kenya, South Africa	j.asafu-adjaye@economics.uq.edu.au
	Associate Professor Eric Louw	n/a	n/a	Res Int: Political Communication; South African political discourse. Louw has published widely in the areas of political communication, and the South African media. Eric is a member of AFSAAP	e.louw@uq.edu.au
	Dr Fernanda Claudio	n/a	n/a	Claudio's research areas include: African migrant health; Impact of development initiatives on small and large populations; Human resources for health in disaster response; Medical anthropology. Claudio is Past-president of AFSAAP (2009-2011)	f.claudio@uq.edu.au
	Dr Kathryn Sturman			She is based in the Centre for Social Responsibility in Mining. Prior to joining CSR, was programme head of the Governance of Africa's Resources Programme at the South African Institute of International Affairs.	k.sturman@uq.edu.au

				She conducted research and policy development in the minerals, oil and gas, and logging sectors in a number of African countries. She has conducted research on the African Union. Sturman has been an AFSAAP member since her PhD studies years.
Dr Victor Igreja	n/a	n/a		Post-doc fellow and lecturer researching on among others, Mozambique's political violence ; Traumatic suffering and social recovery; Cultures of transitional justice and Politics of memory	v.igreja@uq.edu.au
Associate Professor Pamela Christie	n/a	n/a		Christie is also Professor in the School of Education at the University of Cape Town. She has worked on post-apartheid education policy, as well as on school development and change, leadership, curriculum and pedagogy, and school desegregation. She is currently working on joint research projects on Reconciliation and Pedagogy in Australia and South Africa, and Schooling, Globalisation and Refugees in Queensland.	p.christie@uq.edu.au
Associate Professor John Asafu-Adjaye	n/a	n/a		One of his published work is: "Tax effort performance in sub-Sahara Africa and the role of colonialism"	j.asafuadjaye@uq.edu.au
Peter Run	n/a	n/a		PhD thesis on African Conflict Resolution Mechanisms and South Sudan (as case study) Other areas of research:	p.run@uq.edu.au

				The Australian Media and the African Australians. Peter Run was the AFSAAP Executive member (2010-11)
	Joseph Hongoh	n/a	n/a	PhD thesis on Conflicts over land and resources, with Pastoralist Communities in East Africa as case study. Other Areas of research: Peacebuilding issues in the Great Lakes Region (Northern Uganda and Congo DR)	j.hongoh@uq.edu.au
	Georges Karavas	n/a	n/a	PhD thesis on China in Africa Other Areas: Peacekeeping in Africa and beyond	g.karavas@uq.edu.au
	Aime Saba	n/a	n/a	PhD thesis on Peacebuilding and Statebuilding of War-torn Societies with Burundi and Somalia as case studies Other Research Areas: Aid Effectiveness to Africa; The African Union and the United Nations as peacebuilders in Africa Aime is a current (2013-14) PG Representative on AFSAAP Executive
The University of South Australia	Dr Denise Wood	n/a	n/a	Undertaking collaborative research in South Africa with the Gauteng and Limpopo Province Education Departments. Also undertaking collaborative research with Dr Charles Kivunja (see above) which aims to adapt e-learning technologies for use in remote regional environments	Denise.Wood@unisa.edu.au through the development of student-centred low threshold technology solutions for multigrade education in Sub-Saharan countries. Wood was an AFSAAP member.

	Dr Kathleen Heugh	n/a	n/a	From South Africa, Dr Heugh has published several works on the South African experience, in her field. Has undertaken large-scale studies on languages and literacy in education in sub-Saharan Africa for various development agencies and governments. Currently her other research interests are: Language and literacy acquisition in diverse settings; Post-colonial debates on languages and citizenship	Kathleen.Heugh@unisa.edu.au
	Dr Nina Evans	n/a	n/a	South African educated and published several works on the South African experience, in her field. Res Int: Small business management; Sustainability of small business in regional Australia; Organisational behaviour in the world of IT/IS; Women in ICT; Strategic Information Management and Knowledge Management; Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)	Nina.Evans@unisa.edu.au

	Professor Pal Ahluwalia	n/a	n/a	Research Interests: African studies; Social and cultural theory; Postcolonial theory; Diaspora; Exile and migration. Pal is a Past-president of AFSAAP	Pal.Ahluwalia@unisa.edu.au
	Dr Ibrahima Diallo	n/a	n/a	Res Int: Languages in-education in Francophone countries; Language policies and planning in French speaking Africa; The politics of languages in Africa; Language-in-education and literacy	Ibrahima.Diallo@unisa.edu.au
The University of Southern Queensland	n/a	n/a	n/a	n/a	n/a
The University of Sydney	Dr. Nesrin Varol			Nesrin is a senior Clinical Lecturer in the School of Medicine. Trained in Obstetrics, Gynaecology and Neonatology, Dr Nesrin's current research is: Partnership for the Abandonment of Female Genital Cutting in East Africa . She is a member of AFSAAP and the AAUN	nesrin.varol@sydney.edu.au

	Australia Africa University Network	n/a	n/a	The AAUN is a group of leading universities in Australia and Africa, connecting researchers and academics through institutional partnerships in order to address challenges facing both continents. Led by Professor John Hearn from the University of Sydney and Professor Cheryl de la Rey from the University of Pretoria.	Contacts : aaun.events@sydney.edu.au and Desiree.Homann@up.ac.za http://aaun.edu.au/about/
	The Africa expert group	Chair: Joel Negin	n/a	It does not appear on U Sydney's website but some academics continue to mention that they are members of this Expert Group.	Joel.negin@sydney.edu.au
	Dr Joel Negin		n/a	Joel is a senior lecturer at the Sydney Medical School. He has published on health and HIV issues in Zimbabwe and Uganda. Currently, he is working on a research project: The impact of scholarships on strengthening the health system in Africa: an assessment of selection models ; and has been an AFSAAP member in the past.	Joel.negin@sydney.edu.au
	Prof Robert Cumming			Bob Cumming studied medicine and then trained as an epidemiologist. He has worked at the Makerere University in Uganda and has expanded this research to look at non-communicable diseases and ageing in developing countries, especially in sub-Saharan Africa.	robert.cumming@sydney.edu.au

	Dr Virginia Mapedzahama	n/a	n/a	New African diaspora identities, African migrant nurses, skilled African migrant subjectivities, African women and Work. Virginia is an AFSAAP member and co-wrote the 2011 Audit of African Studies in Australia, published by AFSAAP.	virginia.mapedzaham@sydney.edu.au
	Dr Wendy Lambourne	n/a	n/a	Dr Lambourne's research is concerned with analysing and evaluating transitional justice, reconciliation and peacebuilding after mass violence, with a regional focus on Africa and Asia/Pacific. She has conducted field research in Rwanda, Sierra Leone, Uganda and Burundi.	wendy.lambourne@sydney.edu.au
	Lydia Gitau	n/a	n/a	Lydia's PhD thesis is around Psychosocial interventions in Trauma Healing. Her geographic focus is Kenya and Rwanda.	lydia.gitau@sydney.edu.au
	Dr George Odhiambo	n/a	n/a	His current research projects are: Quality Assurance in Higher Education in developing countries: issues from Kenyan Public universities- A comprehensive study analysing the crucial issues and unique challenges facing Kenya's public universities as they struggle to develop quality assurance mechanisms. and A study of migration and brain drain in higher education institutions in Kenya and its implications.	george.odhiambo@sydney.edu.au

	Dr James Roberts-Thomson	n/a	n/a	Dr James is a senior clinical lecturer. He has practiced and taught in South African medical hospitals.	james.roberts-thomson@dhhs.tas.gov.au
	Dr Isabelle Bartkowiak-Theron	n/a	n/a	Bartkowiak-Theron is currently working on a project on Africans in Australia: ' Bridging the Gap between Police and Refugee Communities ', based in the Tasmanian Institute of Law Enforcement Studies (TILES).	isabelle.bartkowiaktheron@utas.edu.au
University of Tasmania	Dr Helen Hutchinson	n/a	n/a	Based in TILES, Dr Hutchinson worked on a PhD project (completed in 2010) titled: ' Exploring Ideas of Health with African Refugee Women in Tasmania '.	hhutchin@postoffice.utas.edu.au
	Centre for Colonialism and Its Aftermath (CAIA)	n/a	n/a	CAIA is an interdisciplinary research centre. It provides a forum for teaching, research, and scholarship in the fields of colonial and postcolonial studies, and facilitates interaction with the local community as well as with heritage and tourism industries. CAIA is a joint initiative between the three schools in the Faculty of Arts: Humanities, Social Sciences, and the Tasmanian College of the Arts.	CAIA.centre@utas.edu.au
	Dr Rohan Nelson	n/a	n/a	Rohan Nelson is leading an AusAID-funded project: 'Policy Pathways in Food Security in Africa'. The goal of the PPFS	Rohan.Nelson@utas.edu.au

				project is to facilitate the participatory development of a coherent set of policy pathways for national governments in West Africa to achieve a food-secure future. This current project is a pilot project working with the Government of Burkina Faso.
University of Technology Sydney	Dr Pierre Mukheibir	n/a	n/a	His PhD drew on a case study of a small town in South Africa, to demonstrate that the consequence of climate change impacts on water resources is an economic issue when it comes to meeting projected water demand and ensuring access to basic water supplies. Has published in this area.	Pierre.Mukheibir@uts.edu.au
	Dr Franklin Obeng-Odoom	n/a	n/a	He is a Postdoctoral research fellow at the School of the Built Environment. His research interests are the political economy of development, cities and natural resources. A native of Ghana, one of his published works focuses on mortgage markets in Ghana. He recently published (2013) a book on governance and urbanisation in Africa and is an AFSAAP member.	Franklin.Obeng-Odoom@uts.edu.au
	Dr Elaine Kelly	n/a	n/a	Her PhD examined the racial politics of refugee policy in an Australian context through the lens of critical race and whiteness theory and Derridean	Elaine.Kelly@uts.edu.au

				deconstructive thought
University of the Sunshine Coast	Dr Paul Williams	n/a	n/a	Williams' areas of research include: African literature and post-colonial theory. He has published short stories, critical articles and educational materials for high schools in Africa. His Young Adult mystery novel 'The Secret of Old Mukiwa' won the Zimbabwe International Book Fair award in 2001 and his memoir 'Soldier Blue' was nominated as Book of the Year in South Africa in 2008.	pwillia3@usc.edu.au
	Associate Professor Kathy Lynch	n/a	n/a	Lynch's research is in the area of ICT research and development; and computing in Social Sciences and has published on Africa in her field, and is a reviewer on the National Research Foundation (South Africa).	kathy.lynch@usc.edu.au
University of Wollongong	Dr. Tony Simoes da Silva	n/a	Black Writing from Africa, the US and the Caribbean	Res int: Anglophone Postcolonial writing and Postcolonial Theory; Postcolonial life writing (particular emphasis on African and Caribbean texts); Twentieth century literature (Africa, Australian; British; US); Diasporic identities; Globalisation; Trauma, Politics and literature; Displacement and literature, especially refugees and writing; Lusophone African writing and culture. Has been an AFSAAP member in	tonys@uow.edu.au

				the past.
	Prof Martin Tsmaneyi	n/a	n/a	Director of ANCORS, Professor Martin Tsmaneyi, is leading a team of researchers in the "Fishing for Security in the Gulf of Guinea" project (under the 2012 AusAID Development Research Award Scheme). From Ghana, Tsmaneyi's areas of specialization include fisheries law; monitoring, control and surveillance; shipping law; etc	martin_tsmaneyi@uow.edu.au
The University of Western Australia	Dr Andrea Emberly	n/a	n/a	Ph.D. in ethnomusicology focused on the musical cultures of childhood in Venda and Pedi cultures in Limpopo, South Africa. Published in this area	andrea.emberly@uwa.edu.au
	Assoc/Prof Robert Faulkner	n/a	n/a	Zimbabwean marimba, mbira, dance and song. Published in this area	robert.faulkner@uwa.edu.au
	Assnt Prof David Mickler	n/a	POLS3334 The International Politics of Africa (U/grad) POLS5671 Peace and Security in Africa (MA level)	R2P in relation to Africa; Australian Foreign Policy towards Africa The African Union and its Peace and Security Agenda; Has recently published "new Engagement: Contemporary Aust Foreign Policy Toward Africa" with Tanya Lyons (2013).	david.mickler@uwa.edu.au
	Dr. Paul Huddleston	n/a	n/a	Ghana's Oil Palm Industry	paul.huddleston@uwa.edu.au
University of Western Sydney	Dr Manisha Dayal	n/a	n/a	South African educated, published in/about South Africa in her field (Forensic anthropological standards; Age estimation from skeletal remains,	m.dayal@uws.edu.au etc)

	Associate Professor Paulin Djite	n/a	n/a	Res Int: Language policy and planning; Language-in-education planning; Language and development (includes African focus)	p.djite@uws.edu.au
	Gavin Ramsay	n/a	n/a	Has lived and worked in Zimbabwe and Swaziland and published in the areas of rural development and Learning systems in community development in Africa	g.ramsay@uws.edu.au
UNIVERSITIES IN NEW ZEALAND
University of OTAGO	Prof JA (Tony) Binns			Tony's research areas include: Rural Development, African Geography, Resource Development, Poverty Alleviation, Food Production Systems. Tony is an active member of AFSAAP	jab@geography.otago.ac.nz
	Professor Etienne Nel			Etienne has taught previously at the University of Transkei and Rhodes University, both in South Africa. His PhD was in the field of Economic Geography and was entitled "Regional and Local Economic Development in South Africa: A Case Study of the Eastern Cape". His primary research interests lie in the broad areas of Economic Geography,	Etienne.nel@otago.ac.nz Or eln@geography.otago.ac.nz

				Local Economic Development, Urban Geography and Livelihood strategies. He is also a member of AFSAAP.
	Professor Phil Hill	N/A	N/A	Professor Hill's areas of specialisation include infectious diseases. He spent six years working as a clinical epidemiologist for the MRC Laboratories in The Gambia and remains a co-investigator on a Gates project to monitor the introduction of Pneumococcal conjugate vaccine and surveillance into The Gambia, and on several tuberculosis projects.	philip.hill@otago.ac.nz
	Dr Merrin Rutherford			Merrin is a visiting research fellow in the School of International Public Health. Currently, she is working on a project titled: "The Pneumococcal Surveillance System and Vaccine Effectiveness Study in the Gambia. (2014).	merrin.rutherford@gmail.com
	Professor John Crump	N/A	N/A	Crump has worked in Moshi, Tanzania, leading a multi-disciplinary research program on the syndrome of fever and its causes as well as HIV prevention, treatment, and care. ... and global health.	john.crump@otago.ac.nz
	Professor Kevin Clements	n/a	n/a	Prof Clements' research areas include: peace and conflict studies. He was Secretary-General of International NGO International Alert (UK-based) and has worked on a number of peacebuilding projects in Africa,	kevin.clements@otago.ac.nz among others.

	Babu Ayindo			Ayindo’s doctoral research focuses on comparative arts approaches to conflict transformation; and pedagogy in peace education, trauma healing, the role of storytellers – like Ayi Kwei Armah, Nuruddin Farah, Ngugi wa Thiong’o and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie – in breaking cycles of violence. written on “arts approaches to peacebuilding” in diverse cultural contexts in Africa, North America and Asia.	babuayindo@yahoo.com
	Sarah Baird	n/a	n/a	Sarah is a development economist whose work focuses on analyzing health and education issues in developing countries. She has worked on areas as diverse as the schooling and health of young women in Malawi, community-driven development in Tanzania, deworming in Kenya, and global infant mortality.	sarah.baird@otago.ac.nz
Canterbury University	Professor Patrick McAllister	n/a	n/a	McAllister has previously worked in academic institutions in South Africa at Rhodes University, University of the Witwatersrand and University of the Western Cape. He has conducted fieldwork among the Xhosa people. His research areas	patrick.mcallister@canterbury.ac.nz include: labour migration, co-operative work, rural development, ritual and religion.

University of Waikato	Dr David Coy	n/a	n/a	David's research interests include: Ethics; Public Sector Issues; and Technology. David has worked for more than ten years in the Sugar industry in Africa.	dcoy@waikato.ac.nz
Massey University	Prof Nigel French	n/a	n/a	French is Director of the Infectious Disease Research Centre and the Molecular Epidemiology and Public Health laboratory in the Hopkirk Research Institute Molecular epidemiology, food safety and the control of infectious diseases. He is currently working on a project (2014) on food security in Africa.	N.P.French@massey.ac.nz
	Dr Jackie Benschop			Jackie is professor in the Institute of Veterinary, Animal & Biomedical Sciences and worked in Africa for a number of years. She is involved, with Prof Nigel French, on the project on Food Security.	J.Benschop@massey.ac.nz
	Dr Gerard Prinsen	n/a	n/a	Prinsen is in the School of People, Environment, and Planning and teaches courses in international development. He has worked for over two decades, with development programmes in Africa; as manager, trainer, researcher, or evaluator. Most of his activities relate to local	G.Prinsen@massey.ac.nz governance, particularly education and health services.

	Prof Bruce Glavovic	n/a	n/a	Bruce studied economics and agricultural economics (University of Natal) , environmental science (University of Cape Town). Bruce’s particular interest is learning lessons from comparative international experience in coastal sustainability, disaster risk reduction, post-disaster recovery, and adapting to climate change.	b.glavovic@massey.ac.nz
Victoria University of Wellington	Dr Steve Behrendt		HIST-117 – Empires and Peoples Description: This course considers the development and impact of Empires since 1400. We examine the establishment of colonies, free and coerced migration, imperial rivalries, nationalism and the resistance to Empire.	Behrendt is a senior lecturer in History. His research areas include: transatlantic slave trade; pre-colonial African history; Caribbean history; and British Empire	steve.behrendt@vuw.ac.nz
	Dr Hilary Miller			Her Post-doc research project was: “Investigating the Origin of Our Species: from Africa to Aotearoa”.	Hilary.miller@vuw.ac.nz
Auckland University of Technology	Dr Penny Neave			Neave’s research areas include: Epidemiology of infectious diseases; migrant health; surveillance systems; malaria; public health; social-economic deprivation. Her PhD “The burden of imported malaria among Nigerians and Ghanaians living in London: Understanding the influences of the social,	pneave@aut.ac.nz cultural, environmental, economic and structural context". (London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, UK)

	Professor Edwina Pio (Professor of Diversity)			Her research areas include: Workplace Diversity; Religious diversity in organizations; Ethnic Minorities (including migrant women) in Work and Enterprise; Ethnic entrepreneurship; Ethnicity in Universities and staff perceptions. She researches on Asian, African and other migrants in NZ.	edwina.pio@aut.ac.nz
	Professor Rob Allen	n/a	n/a	Prof Allen is a Professor of Social History. Before AUT in 2003, Allen spent 20 years at the University of Greenwich in London and spent several years in Zambia and Nigeria researching African urban development.	Rob.allen@aut.ac.nz
UNITEC Institute of Technology	Dr Andries du Plessis	n/a	n/a	Andries worked for a large mining company for 19 years in South Africa and acted as Training Manager in their training department. Andries has 10 years consultancy experience in HR/ ER and Employment Law, and has conducted almost 400 cases successfully for the South African Commission for Conciliation, Mediation and Arbitration.	aduplessis@unitec.ac.nz
	Professor Pieter Nel			Pieter is currently Professor of human Resources management in DoMM at Unitec and previously worked at three different universities and one	pnel@unitec.ac.nz polytechnic. At the University of Pretoria he was the Head of Department of business Management. His current interests are Human Resource Management and Employment Relations, Training and Development and the future profile of the HR profession.

	Associate Professor Leon Fourie	n/a	n/a	Fourie is the Executive Dean in the Faculty of Creative Industries and Business. His research areas include: Human Resources Management, Customer and service quality delivery in South Africa.	lfourie@unitec.ac.nz
	Nigel Adams	n/a	n/a	Nigel's areas of research include: investigations of the feeding biology and bioenergetics of sub-Antarctic penguins and seabird - commercial fish interactions off continental South Africa. He taught at a number of South African Universities, including University of Port Elizabeth (now Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University), University of Zululand and University of Natal (now University of Kwazulu Natal).	nadams@unitec.ac.nz

*A note on the Methodology: This Audit was commissioned by AFSAAP. The research relied on basic search tools on the websites of Australian and New Zealand universities. The key words used were either: "Africa" and/or "African studies". AFSAAP members provided some background information to some entries and Google search tools were used to locate some researchers whose particular web profiles did not appear under university search engines. AFSAAP is grateful to Aime Saaba for his assistance in producing this audit. AFSAAP Acknowledges that the material in this audit may not be complete and is subject to change.